April is Child Abuse Prevention Month

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month, a time to raise awareness and learn how everyone can be a superhero in preventing child abuse and neglect.

Franklin County Children Services' (FCCS) mission of protecting children by strengthening families speaks to the more than 32,000 children served by the agency each year. FCCS believes the key to preventing child abuse and neglect is bringing resources to families and raising awareness by encouraging community involvement.

The agency's annual Child Abuse Prevention Breakfast will be held Wednesday, April 11 at The Boat House at Confluence Park, 679 West Spring St. This event is hosted by Children Services and its Citizens Advisory Committee to honor those who have promoted child abuse prevention and those who have overcome its effects. College scholarships will be awarded to youth; and families and youth will be recognized for making life changes that have helped them build more positive futures. A caseworker and several community advocates will also be honored.

The Wear Blue campaign is also on April 11 and FCCS encourages everyone to wear blue to show unity against child abuse. For Wear Blue, participants can take pictures of themselves, their group, classmates, or co-workers wearing blue and send them via email to FCCSOutreach@fccs.us. Photos may appear on the FCCS Facebook and Twitter pages.

This month, the agency is also partnering with The Ohio Children's Trust Fund and The Center for Family Safety and Healing to bring attention to this important issue with the #30MinuteHeroes campaign. Every 30 minutes a child is abused or neglected in Ohio. Take 30 minutes to support, volunteer, mentor, or donate to help prevent child abuse. Be a hero in the fight against abuse and neglect using #30MinuteHero in social media and post your actions to prevent child abuse to the Facebook page of the Ohio Children's Trust Fund, Instagram/Twitter @OhioCTF.
